Dignitaries of democracy

The current flock of heavyweights among both the elected and rejected vote-seekers in the country's periodic elections to the various Legislative bodies in the range of Gram Panchayats to the Nation's Parliament whose images are flashed by the media, most of the time laying foundation stones of public buildings, bridges, roads and so on as well as inaugurating a multitude of public-funded programmes that fail to take off, barring a few exceptions are dubbed as dignitaries. They are the land's VIPs with self-granted status of celebrities. The recent event of oath-taking in the State's capital Bengaluru by the Chief Minister of Karnataka Government and also the Deputy Chief Minister, belonging to two different political parties, foes-turned-friends (allies) witnessed a virtual horde of VIPs from across the country. Some of them had the bitter (sweet?) taste of the hardship the residents of urban spaces face as they commute in their personal transport in the wake of traffic snarls caused by the fleet of government automobiles with the dignitaries moving in them similar to the proverbial Bull in the China Shop.

As reported in a daily this week, the Prime Minister of Netherlands , a VIP in his own right, after spilling coffee on the clean floor due to tripping humbled himself by wiping the spot. Another VIP, in fact a VVIP (Very Very Important Person) in his nation, the Prime Minister of Italy took a taxi to commute and meet the country's President, another VVIP. On reading such reports from different regions of the world, one is prompted to ask "What about the Indian VIPs, forced on the public as dignitaries?"

The unbearable hardship that the elected representatives of people with the mandate (prescribed in the nation's Constitution or not, someone knowledgeable on the script may clarify) to govern the nation and serve the people without discriminating on any of the socio-economic counts are causing to the citizens does not end with traffic snarls on city's roads as well as inter-city highways. That is what appears to be glaring and read about by people at large in their favourite dailies such as this one. The outgo from the Nation's and the State's exchequer to meet the humongous expenditure on the lavish life of the land's VIPs, the cost of their travel by air both within the country and on foreign jaunts, the sprawling bungalows that receive unnecessary modifications to please the successive crops of VIPs (Ministers and Chairpersons of Corporations with Cabinet rank) may actually dwarf the amounts that colonial rulers are accused of looting.

As an official of the Nation's Supreme Court has rightly pointed out in his article titled "VIP culture: a false sense of privilege," the behaviour of Indian VIPs is not a reflection on the individuals alone, it is also a reflection of the feudal mindset of the citizenry. In sum, the country's diaspora has to grin and bear the presence of the dignitaries.

A patient undergoing medical treatment may suffer from negative side effects purely due to her own negative expectations. This is in contrast to the placebo effect where a patient enjoys better health due to positive expectations regarding her treatment. Negative psychological expectations are believed to cause physiological changes in a patient's body, leading to negative health effects. Scientists have found that patients who were warned about negative side effects of a certain medicine actually suffered these side effects even though they were only served harmless fake pills. — In The Hindu.

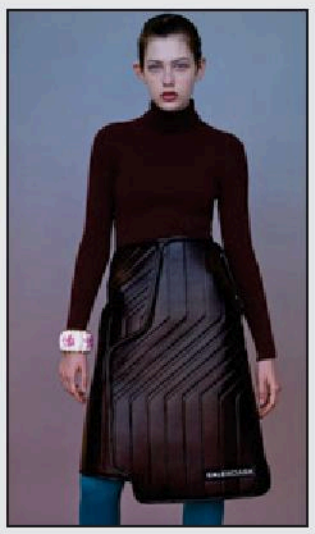
Millionaire teen builds Dr. Octopus suit

San Francisco: Erik Finman, the world's youngest Bitcoin millionaire,has created a real-life fully functional version of Dr. Octopus' iconic four-arm prosthesis for a young Marvel fan who also suffers from hypermobility symptoms.

19-year-old Finman, who got his start in cryptocurrency when he was only 12, by investing a $1,000 gift from his grandmother in Bitcoin, is now worth around $3 million.

The young millionaire put together a "ragtag team of engineers" and set out to make the Dr. Octopus suit a reality. But building a proper prosthesis, as advanced as that of Dr. Octopus would normally cost tens of millions of dollars, Finman and his team decided to rely on 3D printing, building their own custom printer. The design and manufacturing process took about six months, and the result was quite impressive.

$2,300 for skirt that looks like car mat



London: After reading this, you'll have a different thinking about you car rubber mat. Someone at luxury fashion brand Balenciaga did and eventually made a car mat skirt.But they made sure it was appropriately priced – $2,300.

Brilliant minds at Balenciaga simply took a run-of-the-mill car mat and stitched it into a dress, they actually put a little more work into it.

The controversial clothing item is actually 50% lambskin, instead of plain rubber, although it does have neoprene backing for a "utilitarian aesthetic." But apart from leather replacing rubber – at least for the most part – the skirt actually looks just like a coiled car mat.

Inordinate delay in issuing Registration No. to new vehicles

Sir,

When a citizen registers a newly purchased vehicle, it is the duty and responsibility of the Transport Department to provide Registration Number to the owner. It is because Motor Vehicles Act mandates:

"No person shall drive any motor vehicle and no owner of a motor vehicle shall cause or permit the vehicle to be driven in any public place, or in any other place unless the vehicle is registered in accordance with this chapter, and carries a registration mark displayed in the prescribed manner."

However, it is observed that RTOs in Mysuru are taking any time upto 30 days for issuing the Registration Number to the vehicle owner. I have got my registered vehicle on 24.5.2018 and I am told that it will take another 10 days for me to get the Registration Number. It means that I will have to use the vehicle, illegally, without registration Number for almost a month from the date of my purchase. If someone causes accident to an unregistered vehicle or accident is caused by this unregistered vehicle how and who do we hold responsible for the incident?

Under the Fancy Number scheme, Regn. No. is given on the date of registration of vehicle upon payment of Rs.6,000 to Rs.25,000 in case of two-wheelers and Rs.20,000 to Rs.75,000 in case of four-wheelers.

Issuing of Regn. No. is a simple and mechanical process. If some 200 vehicles are registered on a particular day, the Regn. No. will start from the next number from which it ended on the previous day. There is nothing extraordinary involved in this simple exercise. If we peruse the Department's website "164.100.80.164/fancyappln/" one can still see that many numbers pertaining to the previous series (previous to the present running series) are still available for allotment. Thus it is very clear that there is nothing in the Law that mandates the RTOs to move to the next series unless all the numbers in an existing series are allotted. These facts confirm the public impression that RTOs are functioning in a lackadaisical manner.

Are the RTOs aware that Vehicle Showrooms are extracting Rs.2,000 plus as "RTO Registration Charges" (these are besides Road Tax and other mandatory levies)?

Let the two RTOs in Mysuru clarify why they are taking upto one month for issuing the Registration Number. I request the Deputy Commissioner of Mysuru to look into this issue as he happens to head the Road Transport Authority.

Traffic Policemen propelled to 'Serve with Smile'

DCP (Crime and traffic) Mahaninga B. Nandaganvi, City Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subramanyeswara Rao and Uni Talent Management company's Chief Talent Officer Madhu Kiran seen during the soft skill training programme for Police personnel at SDM-IMD auditorium on Chamundi Hill Road yesterday. Picture right shows a section of the Police personnel attending the training programme.

Mysuru, June 20- Traffic Cops on Tuesday were given a pep-talk on being friendly with the public at the soft skill training programme for Police personnel held by the city Police as part of a brand building exercise, at SDM-IMD auditorium on Chamundi Hill Road here yesterday.

Giving an interactive-cum-motivational talk on 'Serving with Smile,' Uni Talent Management company's Chief Talent Officer Madhu Kiran said that any Police personnel working closely with the public should bear in mind that they should not show frustration. Those who work at the grassroots level represent the Department and showing frustration would bring a bad name to the entire fraternity, he said.

Pointing out that since the Department directly interacts with the public, personal at the grassroots level must be cautious during interactions, Madhu Kiran said that the onus is on everyone to build a rapport with the public and not just on the officers.

City Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subramanyeswara Rao, who inaugurated the training session, said that the programme is part of their brand building exercise.

Noting that branding the Department does not happen overnight, the Police Commissioner said that it was important for the Department to define its mission, which is about being friendly and courteous to public.

DCP (Crime and traffic) Mahaninga B. Nandaganvi, Traffic ACP Venugopal, Traffic Police Inspectors and other Traffic Cops attended the session.

Former City Police Chief to deliver talk at Mysore Lit Association

Mysuru, June 20 (NNN)- Mysore Literary Association (MLA) has organised a 'Book Talk' by former Mysuru City Police Commissioner C. Chandrashekar on June 24 at Cauvery First Grade College in Kuvempunagar here at 10.30 am.

The book he will be discussing on is titled 'Homo Deus: A Brief History of Tomorrow' by international best-selling author Y.N. Harari.

Keen student of History

Chandrashekar, himself a keen student of history, feels that a new study of the subject, especially by historians, who are also academicians is very important.

"One of the subjects that have engaged my mind ever since I was a student is how we were taught history. I do not know if it is any different now. In school, the history teacher was never your favourite. You did not look forward to his classes. We were taught history as set of dead facts. The approach was never that it was a live thing. History is such a powerful force that it influences not only the present but it also shapes your future. It is NEVER a DEAD subject. But our teachers never saw such bright sparks in the subject," said Chandrashekar, speaking to Star of Mysore.

C. Chandrashekar

Fortunately, Historians like Harari, ask uncomfortable and quite often questions that had never been asked before. What is relationship between history and biology? What is the essential difference between Homo Sapiens and other animals? Is there justice in history? Did people become happier as history unfolded?, he said.

Brief Profile of Harari

Yuval Noah Harari born on February 26, 1976 is an Israeli Historian and is a tenured Professor in the Department of History at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. He was awarded a Ph.D from Oxford University in 2002. He has specialised in World History and Medieval History. He is also the author of 'Sapiens: A Brief History of Humankind.'

PSI calls upon rural women to be self-employed

Periyapatna, June 20 (Rajesh)- Calling upon rural women to take up self-employment, Bylakuppe Police Sub-Inspector (PSI) M. Mahesh has said that doing so, would help them to join the mainstream society.

He was addressing members of Sri Kshetra Dharmasthala Mahila Sangha, who were on a study tour, at Bylakuppe Police Station premises recently.

Pointing out that it was important for women to be aware of the schemes and programmes for women, the PSI said that awareness on Law should be equally important for women, especially in the backdrop of rising crimes against women and Tribals.

Noting that rural women should not restrict themselves to domestic chores, Mahesh emphasised on the need for women to get educated, as it would largely help them in leading a self-reliant life. Pointing out that nowadays women have come to the forefront in pressing for liquor ban, he said that all women groups should come in support of liquor ban.

Jnanavika officer Revathi, Roopa, Police personnel Somashekar, Nandeesh and others were present.

Lokayukta receives petitions

Mysuru, June 20 (PM&DM)- Lokayukta officials received petitions from the public at the Court premises in Mysuru taluk office here yesterday.

The officials received seven petitions from the members of the public in the two-hour session that took place from 11 am to 1 pm. Most of the petitions received were on the lapses on the part of officials in site measurement, apathy of MCC officials in receiving complaints, negligence in parks maintenance and the like.

Mysuru among 20 places to be developed as tourist hubs

Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh making a point during the inspection of Kukkarahalli Lake in city yesterday as Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, Mayor B. Bhagyavathi, former Mayor R. Lingappa and other officials look on.

- Tourism Minister unveils grand plans
- Stakeholders demand better facilities at Zoo, Palace and KRS

Mysuru, June 20 (SBD&BCT)- A mega and ambitious action plan to develop 20 tourist destinations in the State including Mysuru with a budget of Rs. 3,000 crore is being prepared by the Tourism Department. A meeting of the Department has been organised on June 25 that will be chaired by CM H.D. Kumaraswamy and the action plan will be presented at the meeting.

This was disclosed by Minister of Tourism and Sericulture S.R. Mahesh at a meeting of Tourism Department officials, Hotel owners, Travel Associations and Tourist Guides at Zilla Panchayat auditorium yesterday.

On an average, over 30 to 40 lakh tourists visit Mysuru every year and projects must be planned to increase the tourist flow so that the local economy grows. "Among the plans that can be materialised are a permanent exhibition at Dasara Exhibition Grounds, make the Kukkarahalli Lake attractive in an eco-friendly manner. Some of the proposals to Mysuru have already been conveyed to the Chief Minister and the issues will be discussed threadbare at the June 25 meeting," he said.

Addressing the meeting, MLC Sandesh Nagaraj said that as S.R. Mahesh hails from Mysuru region he will be doing justice for the region and he has knowledge about the potential tourism places. He underlined the need of constructing modern toilets outside the Mysore Palace.

ZOO PARKING: He said that though the government has declared 400 metres around the Mysuru Zoo as no parking zone, the rule is not being followed either by vehicles or the authorities who are supposed to implement the rule. He urged the Minister to direct the authorities to ensure parking in the Dasara Exhibition Grounds.

Issues like less time for tourists to witness the musical fountain at Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam, excess entry fee charged at KRS for other State vehicles, providing battery-operated vehicles from Chamundeshwari Temple to Devikere figured in Sandesh Nagaraj's suggestions.

TOURIST VEHICLE TAX: Sandesh Nagaraj urged the Minister to reduce entry tax for tourist vehicles from other States instead of confining it for Dasara. This will go a long way in attracting tourists and extending their stay in Mysuru.

Other speakers said that Mysuru has become a transit point for Ooty and Kodagu with very few opting to stay in city. Unnecessary harassment of tourist vehicles by the Traffic Police in the name of checking should be stopped as it is affecting tourism promotion in neighbouring States.

Another key issue that was raised before the Minister was giving a new life to Brindavan Gardens, which they said was in a shambles, with nothing of interest to tourists. Tourists visit the place in hordes and except for the musical fountain where there is heavy rush, there is nothing for them to enjoy and make the best use of their time, speakers said.

In his presentation, Mysuru Travels Association President B.S. Prashanth advocated aggressive marketing of Mysuru tourism in international travel festivals for doubling the number of foreign visitors. He said Mysuru has a big scope for being promoted as a wellness hub and urged for aggressive social media campaigns by the Tourism Department for doubling the footfalls.

Chamaraja MLA L. Nagendra said that unfinished works of Devaraja Market, Lansdowne Building and Town Hall are a blot on Mysuru city. He suggested the government to utilise the space in front of the Lalitha Mahal Palace Hotel to build a beautiful garden so that it becomes an added tourist attraction.

He sought a permanent solution to the parking problem in the city's Central Business District and a master plan for developing Kukkarahalli Lake. Among other suggestions raised at the meeting was the illumination of Mysore Palace, focus lights on heritage buildings.

ZP President Nayeema Sulthana, DC Abhiram G. Sankar, Tourism Department Secretary Anil Kumar, Director B. Ramu, Jungle Lodges and Resorts Managing Director Vijay Sharma, Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation Managing Director Kumar Pushkar and other officers were present at the meeting.

Vacate stables at MRC by June 30, orders Minister

Mysuru, June 20 (SPN&BCT)- Minister of Tourism S.R. Mahesh has directed the authorities of Mysore Race Club (MRC) to vacate the horse stables in the Race Course premises by June 30. He has warned that if MRC fails to vacate them, the District Administration will demolish the structures after June 30.

The Minister gave these directions to MRC authorities when he visited the Club yesterday to inspect the basic facilities. Questioning the MRC over the construction of the stables, Mahesh said that the State Government had leased the prime land to the Club for racing purposes only. But the club went ahead and constructed stables illegally.

"If a poor man encroaches a government land and constructs a small house, will you spare him," Mahesh questioned the officials present during the visit. "What the MRC has done is illegal. They should make separate arrangements for horse stables. As horses are being housed here, the animals in the nearby Zoo are facing the threat of various diseases and infections. Even the Zoo officials have written to the State Government in this regard," the Minister said.

Mahesh said that the government had withheld the renewal of MRC licence as the MRC has failed to adhere to the conditions laid in the lease agreement. He said that he will bring the issues before Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy and Public Works Minister H.D. Revanna.

On the shifting of MRC to city outskirts, the Minister said that the MRC authorities must not approach the Court against the government's shifting move and instead negotiate with the government for suitable land. If the MRC moves out of the city, the present MRC land can be used as a tourist attraction, he added.

Yoga Day at birthplace of B.K.S. Iyengar

Bellur (Kolar district), June 20- International Yoga Day is being celebrated tomorrow and the Kolar District Administration in order to pay respects to International Yoga Guru late B.K.S. Iyengar (Bellur Krishnamachar Sundararaja Iyengar) had organised a mass yoga programme at his birth place in Bellur on June 17.

Speaking on the occasion, V.R. Sudarshan, former Chairman of the Legislative Council opined that Yoga has been recognised world over as the best therapy to cure many chronic diseases.

He said that by practicing yoga daily a person can maintain a sound body and mind thus contributing to a healthy society.

B.K.S. Iyengar took to yoga when he learnt that he was suffering from some chronic disease. To his dismay, the disease vanished in no time and Iyengar made it a practice to teach yoga to everyone who came to him. Now after eight decades, his disciples are carrying on his legacy all over the world, Sudarshan said.

Iyengar had always dreamt of developing Bellur as a global yoga centre and was working out the modalities. Kishore, Administrator, Ramamani Sundararaja Iyengar Group of Institutions founded by B.K.S. Iyengar, said a huge meditation-cum-yoga hall has been built to cater to the needs of hundreds of foreign internationals who often visit the birth place of Iyengar.

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka gives information on bad breath and constipation in cats.

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

My cat has bad breath. How should I handle this problem?

If your cat has bad breath then there could be several reasons for it, but the main reasons are:

Gingivitis: If the gums appear red and puffy, and you've ruled out teething, your cat may have a gum infection of some sort. Take the cat immediately to the vet.

Diet: Canned foods and too much meat, can make your cat's breath smell. If possible, try changing your cat's diet. Include vegetables in the meat and boil it and then strain out the vegetables and serve the meat with few vegetables.

Worms: check the de-worming status, if it is more than three months then repeat the de-worming dose.

My cat keeps getting constipated. What should I do in such a case?

The first thing to do is to say no to bones. The second thing that you must do is to always see that fresh water is served to your cat throughout the day. Water is essential for keeping your pet's digestive system healthy. Always make plenty available. Adding water to dry food is yet another way to increase him/her fluid intake. Also make the cat exercise. Get toys that will help him/her run around. Add some fibrous food in your cat's food. Milk should be given when constipated. Liquid Paraffin is recommended.

The dog is frothing at the mouth and not eating anything. What could be the matter?

Here are some reasons:

1. Simple overexertion from physical activity: A dog engaged in heavy work or play is using a lot of energy — and breathing more heavily. As your dog rapidly pants, the oxygen he is taking in can cause the saliva in the mouth to foam up.

2. Upset stomach: Another reason a dog may foam at the mouth is that he has eaten something that tastes bad. The dog will spit, pant and do lots of other things to try to get that revolting taste out. If he becomes distressed, it will only worsen the salivation and the foaming.

3. Stress: A dog who is under a lot of stress may have heavier breathing, causing the classic foaming to occur. If your dog is high-strung, or comes from an abusive background, you may see this happen.

4. Illness: If your dog has an illness, or a disease that affects the respiratory system, you could see foaming at the mouth.

5. Dental problems: Poor dental hygiene may be to blame. Cavities, gingivitis, or pain will cause panting and salivation, which turns into those foamy bubbles.

6. Rabies: Keep in mind that seeing foam at the mouth is not always an indicator of rabies. But there's always that slight chance that rabies is the cause. Symptoms of rabies in a dog include rapid behavioural changes, fever, and sensitivity to stimuli such as sounds or lights. Infected animals may also become disoriented, or suffer from leg paralysis, which causes the animal to stagger and have difficulty walking. Paralysis of the throat and jaw muscles may occur, which is usually what causes the well-known foaming at the mouth to occur.

Can animals tell the difference between male and female human beings?

Animals can clearly distinguish between men and women, and genders of other species. Lab mice not only distinguish male from female humans, they also get more stressed out when handled by male researchers. So the sex of the researcher is something that scientists need to factor in, in order not to skew experiments in which stress can have an impact on the results.

What are the best arguments against eating fish?

If you want the pain argument then fish feel the most amount of pain of any living being. According to Dr. Donald Broom, animal welfare advisor to the British government, "Anatomically, physiologically, and biologically, the pain system in fish is virtually the same as in birds and mammals." Fish have fully developed brains and nervous systems and very sensitive mouths. Fish can also suffer from fear and anticipation of physical pain. An Australian study found that when fish are chased, confined, or otherwise threatened, they react as humans do to stress: with increased heart and breathing rates and a burst of adrenalin. Like any other animal, fish feel pain and have a will to survive.

Fishing is wreaking havoc on our oceans. Ninety per-cent of large fish populations have been exterminated in the past 50 years. Many commercial fishing vessels practice bottom-trawling in order to catch sea animals who live near, on, or under the sea floor, such as flounder, cod, grouper, shrimp, and scallops. Scientists say that the destruction caused by bottom-trawling is similar to that caused by clear-cutting old forests, only on a far greater scale. Elliot Norse, president of the Marine Conservation Biology Institute, says, "Scientists find that bottom-trawling is the largest disturbance to the world's sea floor, and possibly the largest human-caused disturbance to the biosphere." No fish, no oceans. No oceans, no life on land.

Take health: Both wild and farmed fish live in increasingly polluted waters, and their flesh rapidly accumulates high levels of dangerous toxins. The most prominent of these are polychlorinated biphenals (PCB) and mercury. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates that fish can accumulate thousands of times the level of cancer-causing PCBs found in the water in which they live. According to The New England Journal of Medicine, fish "are the main if not the only source of methyl mercury," a substance that has been linked to cardiovascular disease, foetal brain damage, blindness, deafness, and problems with motor skills, language, and attention span. Seafood is also the number one cause of food poisoning . Perhaps one of the reasons is that all surveys have found masses of human faeces in every fish.

Do the mice/ rats, used in laboratories, suffer?

Mice are the most commonly used vertebrate species used in research because of their availability, size, low cost, ease of handling, and fast reproduction rate. All mammals have a sensory system and feel pain exactly like humans. In research by scientists in Canada, mice were subjected to moderately painful stimuli, and it was found that they could estimate the level of pain the animals felt by monitoring facial expressions such as closing the eyes, flattening the whiskers against the face or puffing out the nose and cheeks. The resulting "mouse grimace scale" was similar to the way humans express pain, and could be used to assess how much discomfort animals feel during experiments. Mice laugh when tickled and scream when hurt. Should we be experimenting on them?

Where have the sparrows gone?

Sparrows, which have had a symbiotic relationship with humans for years, have been sadly deserting human company in urban areas, preferring suburban areas and the countryside, and only making brief visits to nearby human habitats. This group of sparrows pecking grains of rice were captured by SOM photographer M.N. Lakshminarayana Yadav near H.D. Kote.

England smash World Record

Post highest-ever ODI total

Nottingham, June 20- England smashed their way to a world record One-Day International (ODI) total of 481 for six as they demolished a lacklustre Australia bowling lineup to all parts of Trent Bridge, Nottingham in the third ODI of the five-match series on Tuesday.

Jonny Bairstow's swashbuckling 139 and a magnificent 147 by Alex Hales helped England go past the total of 444 for three they made against Pakistan, also at Trent Bridge, two years ago.

In reply to England's gigantic total, Australia, who got off to a poor start, were dismissed for 239 in 37 overs as the Eoin Morgan-led team won the match by 242 runs. Adil Rashid was the pick of the bowlers as he returned with figures of 4/47 in his stipulated 10 overs.

Sri Lanka captain Dinesh Chandimal banned for ball-tampering

Colombo, June 20- Sri Lanka captain Dinesh Chandimal will miss his side's third Test against the West Indies after being found guilty of ball tampering on Tuesday.

Chandimal was found guilty of changing the condition of the ball during the second day's play of the second Test, which concluded at Gros Islet on Monday.

He was given two suspension points and fined 100 percent of his match fee, the International Cricket Council announced in a statement. The points equate to a ban from one Test or two ODIs or two T20Is, whatever comes first. Chandimal will now miss the day/night Barbados Test, starting from Saturday

"It is clear that Dinesh Chandimal applied an artificial substance to the ball, namely saliva containing the residue of something he had in his mouth, an action which is prohibited under the ICC Code of Conduct," said match referee Javagal Srinath after the judgement.

The player was suspected of using saliva and a sweet to tamper with the ball and give it more spin after television images picked it up.

Play was delayed for two hours as animated discussions took place involving Srinath and Sri Lankan team officials.

With the second Test drawn Windies lead the three Test series 1-0.

Russia spoil Salah's party to close in on Last 16

Saint Petersburg, June 20- The return of Mohamed Salah from injury couldn't prevent World Cup hosts Russia virtually sealing their place in the last 16 by beating Egypt 3-1 on Tuesday.

An own goal by Egypt captain Ahmed Fathy opened the floodgates on a sodden night in Saint Petersburg before goals from Denis Cheryshev and Artem Dzyuba furthered Russian hopes they can defy pre-tournament expectations with a deep run into the latter stages.

Salah did net Egypt's first goal at a World Cup since 1990 from the penalty spot after he had been hauled down 17 minutes from time, but it was too little, too late for the Pharaohs.

Russia will be guaranteed a place in the last 16 and Egypt eliminated unless Saudi Arabia beat Uruguay on Wednesday.

Senegal beat Poland

Senegal became the first African team to win a match at the 2018 World Cup on Tuesday when they beat Poland 2-1, helped by two shocking errors in the European side's defence.

Poland defender Thiago Cionek stuck out a leg and deflected Idrissa Gueye's wayward shot into the net in the 37th minute before goalkeeper Wojciech Szczesny rushed unnecessarily out of his area and allowed M'Baye Niang to nip in and score into an empty net on the hour.

Grzegorz Krychowiak headed Poland's goal in the 86th minute.

The win took Senegal top of Group H with three points, along with Japan who also beat Colombia by the same score. Colombia and Poland are both without a point.

Egypt, Morocco, Nigeria and Tunisia all lost their opening games.

Senegal celebrates after they beat Poland.

Japan's midfielder Shinji Kagawa celebrates after scoring a penalty.

Japan create history

Japan beat 10-man Colombia 2-1 in Group H on Tuesday to become the first Asian side to beat a South American one at the World Cup.

Asian teams had managed three draws in 17 matches against South American sides but the four-times Asian champions made their extra man count after Colombia midfielder Carlos Sanchez became the first player to get a red card in Russia.

His sending-off in the third minute, for a deliberate handball, was the second fastest in World Cup history after Uruguay's Jose Batista was dismissed after 55 seconds against Scotland in 1986.

Most critics are biased: Lyricist Dr. Doddarangegowda

Mysuru, June 20 (PM&DM)- Maintaining that most critics are often biased in their analysis, veteran writer and Padma Shri awardee Dr. Doddarangegowda has blamed critics for building walls between personalities.

He was speaking after being felicitated at a programme organised by Hemaganga Kavya Balaga at the Institution of Engineers on JLB road here recently.

Recalling that the critical views that appeared in several newspapers on the songs scripted by him for the hit film 'Parasangada Gendethimma' had resulted in many people turning away from the movie, Dr. Doddarangegowda said that, however, after the film was released, its songs proved to be a super-hit with many of the cine-goers hailing the cinema as a good one.

Lashing out at some critics, who are prejudiced, he said that such critics have only been dividing the society, building walls between personalities and glass towers, where one cannot express his or her feelings.

Pointing out that a lyricist should work as a cultural ambassador, who binds societies and communities, he said that literature often explains our culture through different ways.

Noting that the job of a lyricist is not an easy one, he said that a good lyricist should find the most appropriate words while penning songs for films.

Observing that writing every song is a challenge, he suggested that budding lyricists should look at the original roots of our culture in order to come up with the best. Dr. Doddarangegowda further said that extensive study of literature had made him what he is now.

Writer Bherya Ramkumar delivered the keynote address. Social worker K. Raghuram and writer Jayappa Honnali too spoke. Art and culture patron A. Hemaganga presided. Writer Mahadeva Nayaka, Jnanodaya PU College Principal Srikanta Sharma and others were present.

Why should Commerce Professor be Principal of Science College?

Members question at UoM Academic Council meeting

Mysuru, June 20 (RK&NNN)- The question that bothered the academicians most was 'Why should a Commerce Professor be the Principal of Science College?'

This was a subject of serious discussion at the Academic Council meeting of the University of Mysore (UoM) held yesterday at Crawford Hall. The question was posed by MLC Appaji Gowda, when the issue of granting autonomy to Maharani's Science College came up. He wondered how a Commerce Professor Udayakumar could be made the Principal of Science College.

There are also instances where in a few Commerce and Arts Colleges have Professors with Science background as Principals. How is it possible for a Principal who does not have knowledge of the subject to run the College? Hence, it is better to appoint Principals with knowledge of the subjects to the respective colleges, he said.

Former in-Charge VC of UoM Prof. C. Basavaraju said that in many colleges there are no permanent Principals and in a few, Principals without proper qualifications have been appointed.

Reservation and roster system have not been followed in the appointments. The colleges which are not following the University rules are being granted autonomy, he charged and added that such colleges which violate the rules should not be given autonomy.

Another Member Prof. Mahadev said that though considerable time has been given to these colleges from time to time, they have not followed the guidelines. Hence, after giving two more years deadline, disciplinary action must be taken against them, he urged.

Many of the Members, replying to Appaji Gowda's question, said that since the post of the appointment of the Principal is based on the seniority, it becomes inevitable to appoint them irrespective of the subject they are proficient in.

Regarding the reservation and roster system not being followed, a letter must be written to the Government and based on its direction, action must be taken, was the decision taken at the meeting.

Prof. Basavaraju strongly felt that just like the student strength is restricted to 30 or 40 students in the Post Graduate Departments in the University, the same restrictions must be applied for private colleges too.

However, the Members felt that since private educational institutions have the facilities to accommodate 60 students, it is not right to restrict the strength to 40 as there is no problems they face.

Marks card tampering: Degrees of 21 students to be withdrawn

Mysuru, June 20 (RK&NNN)- The University of Mysore has decided to withdraw degrees of 21 students, who were involved in marks tampering. This decision was taken at the Academic Council meeting held here yesterday.

A decision was also taken to take action against the employees who are involved in the irregularities. An inquiry committee led by retired District Judge R. Venkatesh was appointed by the University to look into the malpractice with some employees and middlemen involved.

The students had tampered the marks card between the years 2004-2008. After the probe, the charges were proved against the students. Hence, to uphold the dignity of the University, the decision was taken to withdraw the degrees of 23 students. Meanwhile, two students had died and excluding them, it was decided to withdraw degrees of 21 students.

WORD OF THE DAY

Cryptogram

Pronunciation: ˈkrɪptəˌgræm

Meaning: A cryptogram is a type of puzzle that consists of a short piece of encrypted text. Generally the cipher used to encrypt the text is simple enough that the cryptogram can be solved by hand.

Origin: The Cryptogram is also the name of the periodic publication of the American Cryptogram Association (ACA), which contains a large number of cryptographic puzzles. The ciphers used in cryptograms were not originally created for entertainment purposes, but for real encryption of military or personal secrets. The first use of the cryptogram for entertainment purposes occurred during the Middle Ages by monks who had spare time for intellectual games. A manuscript found at Bamberg states that Irish visitors to the court of Merfyn Frych ap Gwriad (died 844), king of Gwynedd in Wales were given a cryptogram which could only be solved by transposing the letters from Latin into Greek. Around the thirteenth century, the English monk Roger Bacon wrote a book in which he listed seven cipher methods, and stated that "a man is crazy who writes a secret in any other way than one which will conceal it from the vulgar." In the 19th century Edgar Allan Poe helped to popularise cryptograms with many newspaper and magazine articles. Well-known examples of cryptograms in contemporary culture are the syndicated newspaper puzzles Cryptoquip and Cryptoquote, from King Features.

THE ODD WORD

Quagmire

An awkward, complex, or hazardous situation.

IDIOM OF THE DAY

A riddle wrapped up in an enigma

Origin: A form of Winston Churchill's quotation, made in a radio broadcast in October 1939: "I cannot forecast to you the action of Russia. It is a riddle, wrapped in a mystery, inside an enigma; but perhaps there is a key. That key is Russian national interest."

QUOTE BOX

Communism is the riddle of history solved, and it knows itself to be this solution. — Karl Marx
